DOGGER BANK D WIND FARM

I am working on behalf of a proposed offshore wind farm called Dogger Bank D to conduct baseline and early environmental assessments. The surveys will be used to understand local constraints and inform project design to connect the wind farm to onshore infrastructure.

The Dogger Bank D team has instructed a land agency firm called Dalcour Maclaren to engage with landowners and gain permission to access private property for environmental surveys. However, some surveys can be completed from publicly accessible land and rights of way.

The project website is www.doggerbankd.com

If you have any questions about Dogger Bank D, or the surveys being conducted, you can contact the project team.
